Hello November 2022

It seems that the bitter cold has hit us a little earlier than usual this year. We’ve already had temperatures well below freezing and at least a couple of significant snowfalls. It can be especially challenging to get out of bed on these frigid days. Combine that with less daylight hours, and there is a temptation to just turn over and go back to sleep. It makes sense that these cold days also usher in a drop in student attendance. As a parent myself, I understand the challenge of rousing the kids from bed and cajoling them to get into school. As you know, however, it is vitally important for students to attend school. The number one predictor of success at school for a student is attendance. At Lincoln K8 we have all sorts of incentives for students who attend school. Everything from uniform free passes to pizza parties, but we also know that sometimes these incentives aren’t always enough. Sometimes students aren’t attending because of emergencies at home, transportation problems, lack of winter clothing...the list goes on and on. I’m urging you to reach out to me, so I can help you. Lincoln K8 has a multitude of resources to help families get their children to school. Educating your child is a partnership between home and school. Please call me at 672-6542 if you’re having trouble getting your child to school.

Our Vision: “Ignite in every Lincoln student the ability to realize and achieve their potential in a diverse global community.”

Lincoln Mustangs ended Hispanic Heritage Month with a huge celebration. Students performed dances, read poetry, and showed off a hard work!

The Lincoln fall intersession included all this and more! Science Investigations - STEM Centers - Writing - Art - Fun
Primary Music

In music class, primary students are learning how to make a rhythm and how to identify and make a rest.

Mrs. Dryden’s 4th Grade Field Trip to Peoria Playhouse
6th grade AVID students model teamwork and collaboration to their first grade buddies. One sixth grader said, “It’s important that we try to help teach the first graders not to give up!”

Mrs Elliott’s class held their own class elections. Chick-fil-A takes the win for best fast food restaurant!
Our eighth graders read “Tell Tale Heart” in the dark (including the "bloodied" windows) with their flashlights. They were so into it!!

Ms Monast, Mrs Madden, and Mr Jamirson share the importance of brushing and flossing. Did you know that the first toothbrush ever invented was made with thin twigs and the first ever toothpaste was made with egg shells, pumice, and oxen hooves?

8th grade students read about and researched Day of the Dead and why some cultures celebrate this day.
The Lincoln students and staff showed veterans a lot love and appreciation! A big thanks for serving to Ms Monast (Army), Mr Cannon (Army), Mr Nicholson (Navy), and Mr Shingles (Marines).
Girl's Basketball

The lady Mustangs are off to a great start to the season! Check out our YouTube channel to watch a game in the comfort of your own living room!
More Halloween fun! Lincoln’s third annual trunk or treat was a spooktacular success.
