1. DRAW SWORD: For each movement that we discuss we will start off with the PCWC of the movement:
   (P) stands for Purpose
   (C) stands for Count
   (W) stands for When
   (C) stands for Commands.

Let's look at the PCWC for our first sword movement, draw sword:

a. (P) To draw the sword out of the scabbard.
   (C) Three count movement.
   (W) Halted at the position of attention.
   (C) DRAW SWORD.

b. First Count: On the preparatory command DRAW, grasp the scabbard with the left hand just below the frog, tilting it forward to form an angle of 45 degrees from the deck. Grasp the grip with the right hand and pull the sword out approximately 10" from the scabbard. The right forearm should be parallel to the deck and the left hand holding the scabbard against the side.

c. Second Count: On the command of execution SWORD, draw the sword out smartly, keeping it directly to the front, and raising the right arm to its full extent. The blade should be at an angle of 45 degrees, sword in a straight line with the arm, and true edge down. At the same time, release the left hand from the scabbard. Pause in this position for one count.

d. Third Count: Bring the back of the blade against the shoulder-seam, with the blade vertical, knuckle bow to the front, right arm nearly extended, and the thumb and forefinger embracing the lower part of the grip. The thumb should be on the trouser seam with the remaining three fingers joined behind the end of the hilt. This is the position of CARRY SWORD.

2. ORDER SWORD FROM CARRY SWORD:

   a. (P) To position the sword at the order position.
      (C) One count movement.
      (W) Halted at the position of carry sword.
      (C) ORDER SWORD (ARMS).

   b. Execution: On the command of execution, SWORD (ARMS), rotate the sword so that the tip of the sword is pointing downward. The tip of the sword will be 3 inches above the deck and slightly to the right front of the right foot. Straighten the right arm. The thumb remains on the left side of the grip and against the trouser seam. The blade is inclined downward with the true edge pointed down.

3. CARRY SWORD FROM ORDER SWORD:

   a. (P) To position the sword at the carry position.
      (C) One count movement.
      (W) Halted at the position of order sword.
      (C) CARRY SWORD (ARMS).

   b. Execution: Smartly rotate the sword so the blade is vertical and against the shoulder seam, the knuckle bow to the front, the right arm nearly extended, and the thumb and forefinger embracing the lower part of the grip. The thumb should be on the trouser seam with the fingers joined behind the end of the hilt.

4. PRESENT SWORD:

   a. (P) To salute while carrying the sword.
      (C) Two count movement.
      (W) Halted at the position of carry sword or order sword. It may also be execute without command when marching.
      (C) PRESENT SWORD (ARMS).
NOTE: The only difference in executing this movement from the order or from the carry is the initial position of the sword, and the arc that the sword moves in during the execution of the first count.

b. First Count: On the preparatory command PRESENT, raise the right hand level with and 6" in front of your neck. Keep the thumb on the left side of the grip, wrist straight, and elbow against the body. The knuckle bow should be on the left, with the blade inclined forward at a 30 degree angle.

c. Second Count: On the command of execution SWORD (ARMS), bring the blade of the sword down smartly, without whipping, to a position 3" above the deck and slightly to the right of the right foot. Straighten the right arm. The thumb remains on the left side of the grip, with the knuckle bow against the trouser seam. The blade is inclined down and forward with the true edge to the left.

d. Order Sword from Present Sword: The command is ORDER, SWORD (ARMS), and is executed in one count. On the command of execution SWORD (ARMS), turn the true edge down. In this position, the right arm hangs naturally, with the thumb on the trouser seam. The blade inclines down and forward with the point 3" above the deck.

NOTE: There are a few rare instances, such as when on a battalion staff, when the final position of the sword when given Order Arms from Present Arms will be the carry. In such cases, execute order arms on the preparatory command as described above. On the command of execution, execute carry sword.

5. CARRIAGE WHILE MARCHING: While marching with the sword at the carry, the arms swing 6 inches to the front and 3 inches to the rear, which is the same as they would if you did not have a sword in your hand. The back of the blade remains along the shoulder-seam Do not hold the scabbard.

6. RESTS WITH THE SWORD: The three rests that we will concern ourselves with are parade rest, at ease, and rest.

a. (P) To rest while in formation.
   (C) Parade rest is a one count movement. At ease and rest are non-precision movements and have no counts.
   (W) Halted at attention and usually at order sword.
   (C) PARADE REST, AT EASE, REST.

b. Execution of Parade Rest: This is normally executed from order sword. If it is to be executed from carry sword, you must come to order sword on the preparatory command PARADE. At the command of execution REST, move the left foot and left arm as in normal parade rest. At the same time, lower the point of the sword to the deck. Right thumb remains along the trouser seam.

c. Execute Attention: The command of execution, ATTENTION, is preceded by a preparatory command predetermined by the size of the unit. For this class, I will use PLATOON. On the command of execution, ATTENTION, move the right foot and left arm as in normal attention. At the same time, raise the point of the sword 3" above the deck (the position of order sword).

d. At Ease and Rest: At the command AT EASE or REST, the only requirement is that the right foot, right arm, and sword remain at the position of parade rest. While at ease, you may not talk. While at rest, you may talk quietly to the Marines around you. The command to terminate this movement is the same as the one to terminate parade rest. On the preparatory command, PLATOON, assume the position of parade rest. On the command of execution, ATTENTION, execute attention as described above.

7. RETURN SWORD:

a. (P) To return the sword to the scabbard. (C)
   Three count movement.
   (W) Only when halted at the position of carry sword or order sword. (C)
   RETURN, SWORD.

   NOTE: The only difference in executing this movement from the order or from the carry is the initial position of the sword, and the arc that the sword moves in during the execution of the first count.

b. First Count: On the preparatory command, RETURN, with the right hand, execute the first movement of present sword. At the same time, grasp the scabbard just below the frog with the left hand, tilting it forward at a 45 degree angle to the deck.

c. Second Count: Lower the sword point to a position just above the throat of the scabbard. Look down at the opening at the same time you lower your sword tip. Guide the point into the throat until the right forearm is parallel to the deck and the hilt is approximately 10" from the scabbard. Raise the head to the front.

d. Third Count: On the command of execution SWORD, push smartly down and release the grip of the sword with the right hand, so it will slide all the way in to the scabbard. In the same motion, return the right hand to the right side. Release the scabbard with the left hand and return it to the left side, assuming the position of attention.
